STAGE SET FOR BATTLE OF BALLOTS TUESDAY; BOTH BIG PARTIES CLAIM VICTORY IN ADVANCE OF ELECTION

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IS CERTAIN, WHITE THINKS

Says Party Is Sure of Two Hundred and Fifty-Six Electoral Votes, Decided Swing Will Bring Most of 111 Doubtful Ones Into the Fold.

New York, Oct. 24.—George White, the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in a statement here today forecasting the result of the election, predicted that Cox and Roosevelt will have 256 electoral votes, "as good as counted," the Republicans 164, and that the Democrats will win a majority of the remaining 111.

"I have been making a detailed investigation of conditions in the various states," the statement said. "For two days I have been receiving revised reports. It is now possible to give to the public a statement of our prospects in the election. I realize that the customary act of a national chairman at this stage of the fight is to claim everything in the hope that he can persuade wavering voters to line up with his side. Mr. Hayes, my antagonist, has given me several public lessons in this obsolete practice lately by claiming everything except a part of the Southern states.

"Nevertheless, I am prepared to make a fair and honest statement of the situation. I shall reserve the names of the states we will carry because the public would not expect me to acquiesce in the Republican managers with our plans. But I do say this: Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt will have 222 electoral votes east of the Mississippi river and 34 west of the Mississippi river, a total of 256 as good as counted. This is within ten of the number necessary to elect. The Republicans have 164, which I regard as good as counted for them. This leaves 111 votes in contest. In the decided swing now in progress toward the Democratic ticket we will carry the majority of this 111, a very comfortable victory indeed.

"This is my prediction. I am confident that it will be borne out election day."

TAFT A GREAT PROPHET, SAYS THE GOVERNOR

A Year Ago, Ex-President Said These Forces Would Approve, Events Prove He Was Right, Both Nominees to Wind Up Campaign in Home State.

Kenosha, W. Va.—Gov. Cox of Ohio closed his West Virginia campaign here yesterday with another appeal for the League of Nations and a statement that the churches, labor and women were together in a movement which, he said, was sweeping the country.

In this connection the democratic presidential candidate called attention to statements made a year ago by ex-President

Taft, which prophesied the success of the League of Nations principle.

"I wish to pay Judge Taft a tribute," said the governor. "He possesses a gift which I did not think was his. It is the gift of ability to prophesy. Just about a year ago in West Virginia, he said that labor would endorse the League of Nations because of its labor provisions, that two churches would endorse it because it is right, and then, if the women were given the vote they would all favor abhorrence of war, and for the last week it has been perfectly apparent that Judge Taft correctly visualized the future.

"Sweeping the Country."

"From pulpit and congregation comes the same story of religious fervor. No class has been reading the league more industriously than labor. I found miners in the mountains of this state thoroughly familiar with it and the republicans are having trouble with their women's meetings—all of which bears eloquent tribute to Judge Taft's foresight.

"It is sweeping the country."

Gov. Cox decided today to amplify his statement last night at Huntington as to his position regarding ratification of the treaty of Versailles and attendant reservations. The governor motored here early today from Huntington. Later today he is to make his 21st and final speech in Kentucky, at Ashland. This afternoon he was to speak at Portsmouth, O., and tonight at Cincinnati.

The official ballots for the November 2 election were delivered by the printers to the county clerk this week and everything is in readiness for the coming event, which means so much to this country.

Osceola county has over 3,000 voters registered this year and the ballot is 44 inches long, but ample provisions have been made by the county officials to enable each voter to have plenty of time for casting their ballot as they choose.

The voting place in St. Cloud will be located in the new Hastings building at the corner of 11th street and Pennsylvania avenue and fifteen voting booths will be provided for the 1,100 voters that are registered here.

There are two voting precincts in Kissimmee to handle approximately 1,300 voters in that territory. The voting precincts in the county districts have already been provided for and the ballots will be delivered to the election officials on Monday of next week.

Although a number of sample ballots have been distributed throughout the county, to print below a list of the names as they will appear on the ballot, together with the constitutional amendment which permits the state to bond for roads.

If you have not been given the opportunity of studying the sample ballot look over the following list carefully in order that you may determine what candidates you desire to vote for. The ballot makes no distinctions as to the candidate's position.

MILLSOM, FORMERLY CIGAR MANUFACTURER, BUYS POSTOFFICE BUILDING THIS WEEK

Wm. Millsom, formerly a cigar manufacturer in St. Cloud, purchased the Perry building, known as the Postoffice block, and will take possession of his new purchase within thirty days, and become once more a permanent resident of St. Cloud.

The postoffice location is one of the most desirable business houses in St. Cloud and after Mr. Millsom had tried living in another city for a year and returned to St. Cloud and invested more money than he had on his previous residence indicates that St. Cloud holds opportunities that other cities do not offer at this time.

Mr. Millsom, when asked if he would resume his cigar manufacturing, stated that he expected to spend the greater part of the coming winter in hunting and fishing in Osceola county, but of course he would have to supply his friends with good smokes when the proper time comes.

Mr. Millsom and his family will be welcomed again to St. Cloud, as they are known by all the old-timers as progressive people of business, and we are glad to know that he is returning to the city to live.

The purchase made Tuesday includes the Postoffice building with the room above, and the buildings now occupied by the St. Cloud Market and the Comer Real Estate office building.

The consideration of this deal was not made public but it is known that the property brought a good price.

The postoffice block was erected some years ago by Wm. I. Perry, father of W. N. and Charles Perry, who have been residents of St. Cloud since their father died here some months ago. W. N. Perry became owner of the postoffice property after his father's death.

W. N. Perry announces that with the sale of the postoffice building he will leave shortly for the state of Washington and on the way will visit his mother in Illinois and relatives at other points. The friends of Mr. Perry will regret to learn that he is to leave the city as he has become one of the popular young business men since locating here.

TAX COLLECTOR TO VISIT ST. CLOUD

County Tax Collector C. L. Bandy advises the Tribune that he will visit this city and bring the tax books on Nov. 6 and 11 for the purpose of collecting taxes and issuing receipts, therefore.

On Nov. 9 he will be located in the Bank of St. Cloud during that day. On Nov. 11 he will be located in the Peoples Bank during the day.

Mr. Bandy makes these visits here for the convenience of those who desire to pay their taxes in November and take advantage of the two per cent discount offered by the county for payments during November.

RECEIVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK PAYING DIVIDENDS

Receiver R. M. Johnson of the late First National Bank started paying another dividend last week and asked the Tribune to urge all depositors holding certificates against the receiver to call at once and receive their checks for this dividend.

This makes a dividend of 40% which has been paid out of the assets of the defunct First National Bank and amounts to approximately $20,000 paid out this time.

Mr. and Mrs. R. DeKoven of St. Petersburg were business visitors in St. Cloud Wednesday.

RIGHTEOUS CAUSE WILL INSURE A G. O. P. VICTORY

So Declares Chairman Hayes in Message to All State Chairmen — Says "New Glory to Stars and Stripes on Nov. 2."

New York, Oct. 24.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, today sent a message to all the state chairmen, declaring that "we move into the closing days of the campaign with an assurance of victory, as certain as the righteousness of our cause."

"Our campaign has been for a revival of loyalty and patriotism in this country," the message added. "It has had for a main purpose the re-establishment of an economical, efficient, constitutional business administration of the government at Washington.

"We fight for 'America first.' This not only means the preservation of our constitutional independence against super-government abroad; this means not only the protection of constitutional functions against white house theft of authority at home; 'America first' equally means that the score of domestic problems close to every American household, and which have been shamelessly neglected, must and shall have the constructive attention absolutely necessary if 'America first' is to last. And it means that while doing this we will certainly preserve our great place in the world today and tomorrow, with the same unselfish conduct that has made America the synonym for justice and righteousness the world over.

"We fight for the faith of our fathers of the republic and for the perpetual freedom of the sons and daughters of America. I certainly urge and I know that the last days of the campaign will be kept on the same high plane. This election far transcends any partisan affair. Please see that no Republican meeting is opened without singing 'America.' There will be a new glory to the Stars and Stripes on the morning of Nov. 2."

SAYS THREE SAMPLE COPIES OF TRIBUNE INDUCED EIGHT PEOPLE TO LOCATE IN CITY

It is not often that the editor of a country weekly receives bouquets in the form of compliments for service rendered in boosting the community to the extent of inducing new people to locate within the city. But now and then progressive people arrive who are frank to state that it was the news of the local community told in a pleasing manner by the local paper that caused them to become interested to the extent of moving to the community. Such a case was brought to the attention of the editor of the Tribune this week when eight people arrived from Appleton, Wis., to spend the winter with the idea of becoming permanent residents.

Mrs. Z. H. Smith, wife of Rev. Z. H. Smith of Appleton, Wis., called on the editor last Wednesday to let us know that it was through our efforts to advertise this section that a party of eight persons had arrived on Monday to investigate the claims we had made for this city.

In the party arriving by automobile was Mrs. D. G. Stowe and two children, Carlton and Carroll Stowe, Mr. and Mrs. Tee-

VOTE "NO" ON AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION

The Tribune has published from time to time articles favoring as well as articles opposing the proposed amendment to the Florida Constitution permitting the legislature to bond for roads.

We have endeavored to get both sides of the case in order that our readers might have the merits and demerits of this gigantic proposition.

We believe that this amendment should be voted down on next Tuesday after careful study of the proposition from all angles.

The counties of the State of Florida now have the right to vote bonds when the proposition is submitted to the people, designating the roads to be constructed and the taxpayers decide the question for themselves.

The amendment as it appears on the ballot is very vague as to what the amendment proposes to do. It is so brief that not one person in a thousand would know its intent. It appears as follows:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment
Amendment of Section 6 of Article IX Relating to Taxation and Finance.

YES

Proposed Constitutional Amendment
Amendment of Section 6 of Article IX Relating to Taxation and Finance.

NO

The above proposition does not tell the people that this amendment gives the legislature the right to bond for roads to the extent of 5% of the assessed value of all property at the time such bonds are issued and that there is nothing to prohibit each succeeding legislature issuing bonds of this amount if they so desire.

Progressive counties that have bonded for roads will pay the same tax as those counties that have not bonded themselves and constructed roads.

When the road amendment was before the legislature in 1919, Representative Geo. H. Wilder of Plant City made a gallant fight for a bill that would reimburse the several counties that bonded for roads when the state carried the first state bond issue for roads.

For the information of our subscribers who are vitally interested in the matter of taxes, we publish the following letter from Mr. Wilder which appeared in the Tampa Tribune:

Hon. Geo. H. Wilder, Speaker of the House of Representatives, replied as follows to an inquiry from the Tampa Tribune concerning his stand on his proposition to authorize the legislature to issue bonds for road and bridge building in an amount not to exceed five per cent of the assessed valuation of the state at the time of issue:

District No. 1, Jesse D. Kleinman.

The above candidates are not named on page six because photographs of these candidates could not be obtained for this issue, but those desiring to vote for a full democratic ticket can include the above names.

HEARD BANK OFFICIALS ARE ACQUITTED IN FEDERAL COURT

Jacksonville.—A verdict of acquittal was returned by the jury in Federal court on Friday, in the case of J. J. Heard and A. E. Thomas, officials of the defunct Heard National Bank, which failed about three years ago.

Mr. Heard had been on trial in the United States District Court for the last ten days. He was indicted on a charge of misapplication of funds of the bank. The indictment was found after the close of the doors of the Heard bank. A few weeks ago the receiver announced that the bank was able to pay all depositors the final dividend which would make 100 per cent on the dollar.

LORD MAYOR OF CORK DIES FOR HIS PRINCIPLES

London, Oct. 25.—Terrence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, died at 5:40 o'clock this morning. His death followed a hunger strike of more than 73 days, clipping any in the annals of the medical world.

Editor Tribune:—In reply to your inquiry as to my attitude regarding the state bonding amendment for roads I beg to submit the following:

My attitude towards good roads is too well known. I am sure for me to make any declaration in that regard at this time.

I have been interested in reading your editorials and that of other papers regarding this bonding proposition, and more than one friend of mine has said: "Wilder, the papers that fought your road measures are now taking up your same line of argument in an effort to defeat the bonding proposition."

Now that you recognize that I was right in my fight, when I undertook at the last session of the legislature to lay out a policy for the Highway commission, to have credit given the progressive counties, which had already spent large sums of money for roads, and to see that everyone got some good roads from the two mill and other taxes imposed, as well as to throw every safeguard around the expenditure of the money, I am sure I shall not have to wait for my posterity to get recognition for my honest efforts, and I hope, creditable position I took in the interest of good roads and the public in general.

I am opposed to letting down the bars and turning the legislature foot loose in our fertile fields. By reading the proposed amendment, no one can doubt the right of each legislature to bond the state to the limit, and as often as it sees proper. For it says: "Any bond issue authorized in pursuance hereof, shall not exceed in amount five per cent of the total tax assessment of the state at the time of issue."

Therefore, "the time of issue" may be as often as the legislature sees proper. While this is true, it is reasonably certain that no session of the legislature would try to bond more than once.

But in view of the fact that we have already provided liberally for roads, and have other demands upon us which we are compelled to take care of, we can not stand this one issue without seriously endangering if not destroying the unparalleled era of prosperity which we are now enjoying.

Another thing: The Highway commission is now receiving large sums of money—perhaps as much as they can handle economically, and we are not in such desperate straits for roads that we desire to spend two dollars for one.

I think but little of the suggestion that the automobiles be taxed to take care of the proposed bond issue. They are already heavily taxed, and take the owners as a whole they are to be sympathized with rather than penalized. Most of owners are poor people and use their machines in their business. You put two or more taxes on a car, yet a man in the heavy hauling business may have a dozen teams, with iron shoes to tear up the roads and otherwise damage the roads with his heavy loads on which he pays no tax, except perhaps a straight personal property tax.

If we are to bond the state at all, I believe the people should be privileged to vote each and every issue. And no proposition not fair to all sections of the state should be submitted. To do justice to all and build the highways already approved would call for a very large sum of money, much larger than the proposed issue of $20,000,000.

It seems to me that when the people of the various counties realize that they must bond to meet and get Federal and State aid, in other words that they must do something for themselves, then, and not until then, will we have a system of good roads, doing justice to all sections alike.

When this is done we will have ample funds, good roads everywhere, and the necessity for bonding the state will have passed. So let's defeat the proposed constitutional amendment.

Yours very truly,

GEO. H. WILDER.

Plant City, Oct. 19.

AGRICULTURAL POINTERS

Geo. H. Wilson, County Agent

I have had good cooperation from the growers in obtaining farm products for the county exhibit to be displayed at the coming State Fair in Jacksonville Nov. 18. Let the good work keep up and we will show them just what a real county can produce.

Here is something else for you to do: Offer as a suggestion some farm product that can be used in decorating the booth for Osceola at this fair. Some useful product grown on the farm that can be used to decorate with, at the same time make an educational display that will blend with the entire exhibit. If you have anything in mind that will fill the bill, please send it in at once. We have no time to lose in making preparation for the exhibit.

To all farmers and truck growers, please take note. Tuesday night, Oct. 26th, there was organized at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, all truck growers and farmers, for the purpose of having a curb market in Kissimmee, where you can bring your produce and obtain a market price and so warrant your good efforts in growing food products. There was quite a number of interested growers at this meeting who were enrolled in the organization and who gave their names as supporting the organization. Another meeting was called for Thursday night, Nov. 4th, at which meeting we expect a large attendance. At this meeting the election of officers will take place in order to perfect the organization. It is my desire as your county agent to see every trucker in the vicinity of Kissimmee, or county, to become a member of this organization and realize more than ever before what really a co-operative organization will mean to the county of Osceola. We must pull together and work as a body if we are to make any progress. Are you for a better, more prosperous county in which to live, then boost and talk to your neighbor of an organization for the purpose of buying and selling commodities for and from the farm. Don't forget the meeting on next Thursday night. We want a full attendance of all men and women who are interested. Are you?

Again to all producers: If you want to make and save money, provide a shelter that will be suitable for the storage of all farm implements when not in use. Plows, harrows, mowers, hay rakes, threshers, and any farm tools you may name cost real money, and when you lengthen the life of these tools, and stop the rapid depreciation on them, then your bank account will increase over night. A dollar saved is two dollars made, so take the farm tools out of the weather, and see how much longer you can wait before having to buy another plow or harrow.

Now is a good time to select that plot of ground you expect to plant next spring in rice. Yes, rice, and more rice, shall be our slogan from now on. Upland rice will produce 40 bushels to the acre with not much trouble in Osceola. Ask Mr. F. A. Stroup at Fish Lake for further information. Some rice. Yes, that is a good deal better than making about ten bushels of corn to the acre on the same ground. And Osceola county has all the desirable rice land we need to make people up in New York read about the rice production down here in Osceola county. We can do it if you are willing, and I am sure you are game to try it a round. Think this over, hear?

Plans for the county exhibit at the State Fair in Jacksonville Nov. 18th are well under way, and I think Osceola will have a very creditable exhibit if everyone will lend every effort possible in making this exhibit a grand advertisement and prize winner for the county. If you have any agricultural products that will help make a better exhibit, please let me know at once what I can depend on getting from you. One man can't carry a good county exhibit to this fair, so lend me a helping hand. I need your assistance. Get what you have to show in good condition, and notify me by card, or else see me at once.

I am sorry to learn that there are so few good hogs in the county. Raise more feed, and good hogs will be the result. Start planning now what you will plant next season, and secure good seed for the spring planting early so there will be no delay in planting. Now is a good time to plant that patch of winter oats, rye, rape, etc., for winter grazing, and don't leave our space for the fall garden. Plant some turnips, lettuce, cabbage, onions and beets that will withstand the early frosts.

Now is a mighty good time to give your grove that clean-up spray for whitefly and scale insects. Use any oil emulsion one to sixty-five strength. If your fruit is splitting and dropping, examine the tree for dieback. Most likely the fruit is ammoniated, which causes the splitting and dropping in many instances. With small trees scatter from one to two pounds of bluestone, and from two to four pounds to large trees to counteract the over amount of ammonia. Also stop working trees that are in this condition. Tails will induce them to work out of the ammoniated condition alone.

I run across citrus growers every day that have trees dying with footrot, and are doing nothing to stop its spread or treat the trees diseased. I have offered my services free to several growers who have footrot trees, in order to try and show them how easy and simple the treatment really is. If you need my help, I will be only too glad to treat several trees for you to get you started right. Orange trees can't die of old age, but die of disease. If you have trees diseased with footrot, treat several trees first and see what results you get. Dig back the soil from diseased roots, and expose them to the sun and light, then scrape down to good wood, and paint over the diseased portion with a paste made up of equal parts of quick lime and sulphur. Repeat this application every two or three weeks.

Milk, milk, milk, the one best all round foods in its balanced food values we have, and more people die from its use than any other food because it offers such a good food for the growth of harmful bacteria. Every dairy herd should be tested at least every year for tuberculosis to make milk safe for consumption. Dirty milk is always full of troublesome bacteria. Most milk is contaminated after it is drawn by careless methods of handling.

I hope to soon see the county organized in a co-operative organization for the benefit of every farmer. Then you can buy and sell together in a co-operative manner, that will make money for everyone of you. Will you be ready to join such an organization?

KISSIMMEE

(Written for last week)
Nathan Bryan Carson, aged 64, died on Saturday night at his home on North Main street. Surviving him are his four children, Mrs. Edgar J. Oliver of Savannah, Ga.; Dr. W. W. Carson of Jacksonville; Marion B. Carson and Mrs. H. S. Jeger of Kissimmee. The funeral was held at the home Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. O. B. Falls and music rendered by members of the Baptist choir. A quartet composed of Miss Almira Leitner, Mrs. Elizabeth Waring, Messrs. Jones and J. M. Willson, Jr., gave selections especially dear to the deceased.

Mrs. Willie Abman was called to Orlando Sunday to attend the funeral of her son-in-law, Maynard Polk, who died in Henslowville, N. C. Mrs. Polk passed away two years ago. Thus four young children are bereft of their parents.

Eldridge Harris, son of B. Harris, was taken to an Orlando hospital Monday for an operation for appendicitis.

Messieurs N. A. Johnson, Nancy Johnson and Frankie Psauts are Illinois tourists located at Mrs. Ploner's home on Sumner street.

Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Summers are giving up their place of residence on Lumett street.

Rev. Summers is in the evangelistic field nearly all his time, hence Mrs. Summers and son Christie will abide at the Park hotel, which has recently passed under the control of J. J. McCranie.

Mrs. J. A. Barclay returned Monday from her sojourn of three months in California. Short, however, was her stay in Kissimmee. Mr. Barclay, whose business has centered in Orlando for many years, has built a beautiful apartment house in Orlando, to which Mrs. Barclay departed Tuesday. Many friends sincerely regret the departure of these people. Their pretty bungalow here is now on the sales market.

Again we chronicle regrets: C. W. Griffin went to Miami two weeks ago and completed business arrangements which have been somewhat unsettled. Mr. Griffin returned Wednesday night and by November first will have located his family in Miami. Most genuine are the many expressions of regret that this good family which has been such an active part of Kissimmee is to be leaving us.

Mrs. A. T. Morrison leaves today for Pomona to see to her grove and other property interests. Mrs. Morrison is active in all civic work of Kissimmee, therefore we cannot spare her very long.

Mrs. W. J. Sears and Mrs. Fred S. Gilbert are visiting friends in Miami. They motored down with Hon. W. J. Sears, who has been giving final instructions along the East coast.

The school lunch room was a popular place Wednesday. Besides the two hundred pupils served the following ladies were guests: Mesdames Stanley, Roberts, Trimble, Morrison and Cotterman. A very desirable donation was given the lunch room the other day when Mrs. Tatum, a newcomer, sent in forty-five glasses of jelly.

County Superintendent C. E. Yowell in alighting from his car Monday morning in front of the postoffice, stumbled on the curb and dislocated his shoulder. He is rapidly recovering.

A. B. Yoder, with wife and daughter, are coming to live in Kissimmee. These good folks are from Bainbridge, Ga. Mr. Yoder comes to take an important place in our band.

A director for the band has been secured in Prof. J. M. Gallagher, whose daughter, also a musician, will be concertist here. Beginning with November 1st Kissimmee will have two band concerts per week.

Mr. J. D. Woodbeck is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce—yes, plus many other activities. Mr. Woodbeck keeps continually in mind Kissimmee's interest. It is due to him that Kissimmee will soon inaugurate a curb market and Bargain day. True, it is that the Chamber of Commerce will help feature these movements but all this while the secretary is dreaming of helpful plans.

Rumor says the government had an inspector here this week looking over the pathway to the sea, that is, considering the opening of the canal and water routes to the gulf or ocean. Two years ago a gentleman visited Kissimmee who had traveled the world over. He remained in the Chapter House one day to a group of women, some lines with this substance: "I've traveled much but I've never seen a better location for an inland city than Kissimmee. It may not be in my time—or in your time—but the day will come when ocean liners will come up these avenues of water to this new shipping port—Kissimmee." Mobley so, Mobley so.

On Oct. 20, Kissimmee merchants, so we are told, will have a Dollar Day bargain. Early in November we are expecting the beginning of weekly curb marketing. Then our growers, Frazier, Dietz, Howell,

Caster, Hassell and others will give to Kissimmee housewives opportunities of "fresh from the garden."

Leo Wilson was hurrying away yesterday to Deer Park to attend to his agricultural duties. He said he had just ordered two car loads of lime from the Florida Lime Company of Ocala. These loads are for 251 Johnston and W. E. Smith.

The various churches have had their monthly meetings this week. The Baptist church had theirs on Wednesday evening with Mrs. A. H. Cady as guest. On this same day the Baptist women were entertained at Mrs. O. B. Falls' home and the Presbyterians at the Manse. The Methodist ladies had a missionary program at the bungalow on Wednesday afternoon.

The Chapter House is the center to which our visitors ever gravitate. This dear little place is ever kept in perfect order and superbly neat by our accomplished hostess, Mrs. Sanborn. Here the strangers and the townfolks are always cordially welcomed.

The Mothers Club held a very interesting session last Friday afternoon when Judge G. F. Kribbs and Attorney Milton Pledger addressed the women on the method of voting. New occasions bring new duties, and Kissimmee women would ever keep abreast with such.

Dr. W. B. Witherspoon was in town the early part of the week, grasping hands with many friends.

Mrs. Paul K. Weaver and Infant Jean came down from Jacksonville Saturday night to make an indefinite stay with Mrs. Weaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Bryson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bart Bryan, formerly of Kissimmee but now spending most of their time in Fort Pierce, were in town this week, and of course, will be here to perform their civic duties November 2d.

Mrs. Angie Makinson Bryan leaves Friday for Atlanta, Ga., to specialize in some commercial study.

Mrs. Claude Lee, well known as a one-time Kissimmee resident but now living in Baltimore, reached Kissimmee Saturday night, and is now the guest in the McPhatter home.

Mrs. Henry Harper and Miss Claude Harper will arrive today from Baltimore. Mr. Claude Harper, who has been seriously ill at John Hopkins hospital, is making satisfactory recovery, hence the return of the mother and wife.

The Mothers-Teachers club will have a practice balloting on Friday at the Chapter House from 10 p. m. till 4 p. m. There will be practice ballots containing names of the 29 presidential electors, also the names of candidates for offices, national, state and county. The practice in voting is intended to be educational—in no way partisan.

The Mothers' club is preparing its box for the Jacksonville orphanage to be sent two weeks previous to Thanksgiving. The friends who desire to contribute articles of clothing or any other material gifts, will please leave such with Mrs. S. L. Lupton, Jr.

OBSERVATIONS

(By Moses Folsom)
The United States gained about 14,000,000 people during the last census period. The large gain was in the towns and the cities. The concentration of population in the great cities is not a healthful sign for the republic, and if the increase means bigger cities and more congested and congestion then the increase of fourteen millions in the last ten years is not a matter of congratulation.

The indifference and apathy with which many parents regard school work must be very discouraging to teachers, who serve term after term without seeing the faces of parents at the school. In cases of that kind parents have no right to complain, when from personal knowledge they know nothing about how the school is conducted.

Birds are natural foragers. Among the guardians of the trees are woodpeckers. They gather their food in the form of bugs and borers by creeping around the trunk of the tree and its branches. They never hunt in flocks, and seldom migrate, as their food is as abundant, especially in mild climates, in the winter as in the summer. Ducks usually forage in company, but chickens scatter.

Florida enjoys transportation facilities by land and sea not surpassed by any other state. By rail it has advantages over many parts of the United States, with which it can be reached from any city of the country, as trains are operated direct to the state from all of the large cities. All the settled parts of the state have local train service, besides auto trucks and bus lines have been established in many localities. Florida seaports are open all the year, without danger from snow, ice and cold in the winter time.

It is said that in a class of 200 Northwestern university students only nine of them knew who Absalom was, but 190 knew about Babe Ruth. This ignorance of the Bible is appalling. As a matter of fact, everybody ought to know who Absalom was, even if only for an example of what a young man should not be. It is passing strange that only nine members of the great university class did know, although it is not surprising that everyone of them knew about Babe Ruth. They read the newspapers and not the Bible. It would be well if provision were made everywhere for Bible study. Certainly lack of knowledge of the book on which Christian religion is founded is something of which we can not be proud.

A memorial tablet is to be placed in the war department at Washington in honor of American heroes and nurses killed in the military service of the United States during the great war. There were 242,121 horses and mules employed and the casualty list was 68,082. They were used for the transportation of supplies up to the very front where it was impossible to use motors, and the artillery was largely dependent upon them for movement. As a result they were exposed to great dangers and suffered great horrors in a service in which they could have no interest as individuals and of the necessity of which they could have no understanding. That human beings are beginning to understand their real relation to the brute creation and to acknowledge their debt to their animal friends is a hopeful sign of the times.

The labor situation in this country is jeopardized by the greatest flood of immigrants in our history. Steamship companies say that their accommodations are booked for a year ahead. Thousands of foreigners reach New York every day.

PATRONIZE HOME MARKETS

The above popular slogan appears in most local publications, inspired by a very commendable desire to boost our home towns. But there is another side to all very logical and fair questions. We wish to keep our money at home and encourage home enterprises, but is our money kept at home if we buy of our local dealers? We admit a large portion of it is, because only a small per cent of it is sent away for the articles offered for sale in our local markets. For instance, not long ago I wished to buy a much desired and much used article on all farms and most other places where tools are used; and I priced the article in one of our stores. The price was $12. I did not buy. I looked up the same article in another retail store's catalogue and found the price to be $5.95. Are these other firms selling goods for fun, or are they making a fair profit on their goods? Is it any wonder that the local markets are not getting ALL the trade? Respectfully submitted, A. W. LATHROP.

HOW SHOULD WE VOTE?

All over the state we hear of schools of instruction and so forth, gotten up for the purpose of instructing our voters and how they should vote. In our country we are this year called on to vote for three different gubernatorial officers.

First we are called on to elect six electors who represent whichever candidate we individually select. Apart from politics we elect these electors because we consider that the candidate that they represent in his turn is the most competent party to rule the United States. Second and third, we are called on to elect officers for our state and also for our county. These candidates should not be elected because they belong to either the democratic or republican parties but should be considered by the voter solely on a basis of their integrity and competency and should be voted on accordingly. Their election should not be based on the political party to which they belong. A REPUBLICAN.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT FOR ROAD BONDS SHOULD BE OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATED.

The proposed constitutional amendment permitting the legislature of the future to bond the state of Florida in the sum of five per cent of the assessed valuation at the time the bonds were voted, should be overwhelmingly defeated by the voters of Florida on November 2.

We make this statement after giving careful study to the campaign that has been made by various organizations, both for and against the amendment and after careful consideration of the amendment on its merits as a business proposition, that would affect the whole state.

In the first place, the progressive counties have already built roads and are levying taxes now for those bonds, and using the roads. There is no provision in the proposed amendment that these counties would be reimbursed in any way by leasing state bonds, although every county in the state would be taxed alike for repairing state bonds.

We are not in favor of taxing the people of one county to build roads in other sections that have no desire to bond themselves for that purpose. The legislature has already provided that any county or part of a county may become a special road and bridge district to build roads and bridges when the MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE owning property that would be taxed have signified their willingness to be so taxed. The proposed constitutional amendment DOES NOT GIVE THE TAXPAYER an opportunity to pass on the merits of any STATE BOND ISSUE for roads.

We believe that plans already printed in these columns to build roads by direct taxation will supply enough money to keep the work under way until completed and give the state a system of roads that can not be built under the proposed bond issue for double the cost.

The idea of taxing automobiles alone for the bond issue proposition is wrong, even if automobile owners have not protested against such proposed method of taxation. We have no assurance that the legislature would adopt the plan proposed by the several organizations backing the campaign to adopt the amendment.

The amendment as it reads gives the right to the legislature to bond for roads, bridges, and for the maintenance of roads. There is ABSOLUTELY NOTHING embodied in the resolution as submitted to say how such bonds shall be retired, although it is absolutely certain that the legislature would do so by taxation, and such bodies have rarely selected a certain kind of property to tax for anything that was of a state-wide nature like the road system should be.

The next legislature can provide funds for the road department in the same manner now in vogue or they can abolish the department and leave the road building to the counties.

Counties progressive enough to build their own roads will continue to grow.

Unless designated roads are laid out and the people allowed to vote a state bond issue when they know what will be done with the money, we oppose any amendment allowing the legislature to bond for roads.

Make those newcomers welcome in every way you can. They soon become missionaries.

St. Cloud has about 1,100 registered voters now. You can figure the population pretty fairly from that, regardless of the census.

The political prophets are having their day in the presidential campaign. The voters will shatter somebody's reputation as a political prognosticator next Tuesday.

And don't forget that about 20,000,000 women will have their say at the polls this year for the first time. And nobody can guess this far ahead what the women will do.

Sound of the hammer and the saw thru-out the city of St. Cloud sounds like old times again. Better get your work started now, because there is a heavy demand on the contractors at the present time.

Vote against permitting the legislature to bond for roads without such bond issues being approved by a majority of the property owners. Vote against the constitutional amendment which will be the last proposition in the general election ballots on November 2.

The secretary of the Ten Thousand Club has been compelled to employ a stenographer to keep up with the inquiries about St. Cloud. Hundreds of folders are going out each week, and many new people are arriving each day as a result of the advertising done by the club early this year.

The women of Tampa deserve credit for the splendid voting strength they poured in behind the work of the charter board in securing the adoption of a commission-manager form charter for Tampa on October 19. In every precinct where the women had registered a good vote the majorities in favor of the new charter were large. Tampa is steadily about to get a new form of government, the new corrupt city government in the South, which has dominated affairs for about fifteen years.

THE MARTYRDOM OF TERENCE MACSWINEY

The long agony is ended. The long fast of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, has been finished by death. For 73 days he resisted the pangs of hunger, a period of fasting to which human history furnishes no parallel. Dr. Tanner exalted wonder and amazement in this country a number of years ago by fasting for 44 days, but Terence MacSwiney nearly doubled his record. Of the value of his action in promoting the cause of Irish freedom, there will be a wide difference of opinion. Many will regard it as the act of a crazy fanatic, who threw his life away for a hopeless ideal. Others will glorify it as the "supreme sacrifice" made for a beloved country. The Irish will esteem him a martyr to the cause, and will place his name on the scroll of fame along with those of other Irish martyrs, Wolf Tone and Robert Emmet, to be revered for all time, wherever a true Irish heart beats beneath a fusian jacket. Whatever other effect it may have, it will widen the age-old breach between the two countries which lie on opposite sides of the Irish channel. There has never been peace between them since the ancient Irish kings fought fiercely and savagely for their independence.

Henry VIII was crowned King of Ireland, and Cromwell with his hardy Ironsides swept the land with fire and sword. Later on Gladstone and other humane English statesmen tried more pacific measures, but the mailed fist always grasped the sword, and there was no lasting peace. Always there was on the part of the Irish the lasting memories of bitter wrongs; on the side of the English the same stern determination to conquer this unconquerable race.

We spoke of Wolf Tone. He was a young Irishman who organized a revolution in 1798, encouraged by some vague promise of French support. For five months there was a struggle at it was in Ireland. Many battles were fought and the war cost England 20,000 men, and 50,000 Irish lives were sacrificed. The money cost to England was estimated to be from 30 to 50 million pounds. Tone was finally captured, tried by court-martial and condemned to death by hanging. On the day before he was to be executed he cut his throat in prison with a pen knife and so cheated the hangman.

Robert Emmet was the next notable victim of England's wrath, although there were plenty of minor ones. He, too, organized an insurrection which he fondly hoped might prove a revolution, and he too, convicted with France. But his followers did not stand behind him and he was quickly captured and condemned to be hanged. The sentence was executed in Dublin in 1803. He defended himself with rare eloquence and ability before the tribunal, but to no avail. He paid the penalty. To the names of Tone and Emmet will hereafter be added that of Terence MacSwiney as one of the glorious triumvirate who died for Irish freedom.

As a rule new neighbors do not turn out as bad as their furniture looks when it is unloaded from the moving van.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspironal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—(Adv.)

The Tribune is informed that a Tampa special between Jacksonville and Tampa will be put on regular schedule November 15, which will give to this part of Florida an additional fast train service for the winter season. The Tampa special leaves Jacksonville at a later hour than the other morning train and arrives at Kissimmee earlier, giving visitors an opportunity to get cleared during the afternoon. The Tampa train gives people traveling north from St. Cloud a noon train at Kissimmee which connects at Jacksonville with fast trains of the north.

J. A. McCarthy asked for a writ of injunction before Judge Andrews early this month to prohibit the city of St. Cloud collecting a license from him as an electrical contractor. Judge Andrews in reviewing the petition advised attorneys for McCarthy that a writ of injunction could not be had in such cases, as the city ordinances required every man to have a license for such business, but suggested that since it appeared from the information filed that it was alleged that certain other persons were doing business here without a license, a writ of mandamus might be to compel the city collecting from such other persons. Further action, however, has not been heard from in the matter. Investigation made by the Tribune brought out the information from records that every person doing electrical contracting in St. Cloud had license both from the city, county and state, except that McCarthy had not at the time taken out a license, but since the Judge's ruling McCarthy has taken out a license.

A. Diefendorf is reported very much improved today, which will be welcome news.

Wednesday was observed as Roosevelt day by a number of patriotic citizens who displayed the American flag throughout the city.

On election day lunch will be served near the election headquarters by the ladies of the Rebekah lodge and all the voters are invited to call for their noon day lunch.

The ladies of the Rebekah lodge will give a pie sale on Saturday at the G. A. R. hall and invite the general public to visit the sale and purchase to the limit of their ability. The proceeds of the sale will be used to raise funds for the new Odd Fellows and Rebekah home, being purchased by these lodges.

Mr. Henry Sheats, late Private of Co. I, 115th Ill. Vol. Inf., has been in the city the past few days and left yesterday for Live Oak, Fla., to wind up his business affairs preparatory to returning to St. Cloud to make his permanent home and enter business. Mr. Sheats will open a general repair shop in this city about the 15th of November and take his place in the business life of the city.

On Armistice day, Nov. 11, every patriotic citizen of St. Cloud is requested to display his flag. Plans for the celebration could not be carried out this year because it was impossible to obtain a band for the occasion, but it is planned in 1921 to have the American Legion organized in St. Cloud and have a proper kind of celebration. For this year the display of flags is all that will be attempted for the observance of the day.

Happy is the man who is too deaf to hear what others say about him.

Hayner, pastor of the church, performing the ceremony, the simple ring service being used. The bride was dressed in a traveling suit of brown jersey. Only the immediate families of the young couple were present.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Harris, and is quite popular among the city's younger set, and an earnest worker in church and social circles. Mr. Zellers is the son of Mrs. Carmie Zellers and a member of the Tribune staff. While having been in the city only a short while, having come here from Dayton, Ohio, he is very popular and has a host of friends who wish him and his bride a long and happy married life.

The happy couple are at home to their many friends at their home at the "Cute" on Eleventh street between Wisconsin and Jersey avenues.

ELECTION RETURNS TO BE RECEIVED AT REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS

VETERANS ASSOCIATION

The Veterans Association held its regular meeting in G. A. R. hall Saturday, Oct. 23, 1920, at 2 p. m., President Kenney in the chair. America was sung, after which Rev. Westcott led in prayer. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue was sung by all. Comrade Ford of the Michigan Infantry, who has wintered in St. Cloud ten winters, came to the platform and gave us a talk, also Rev. Westcott, our chaplain, who has returned from a summer's vacation at Asheville, N. C., told us of the pleasant time he had, but he looked forward with pleasure to his return to St. Cloud for the winter. Mr. C. H. Funk, the candidate on the republican ticket for sheriff, was invited to come to the platform to defend himself concerning false rumors which had been circulated about him as a candidate, which he proved were untrue, to the satisfaction of the audience. The St. Cloud yell was given and the collection taken. This being the 73d birthday of our president, Mr. Kenney, he was remembered with birthday presents from his friends in the audience. The collection for Saturday, Oct. 16, was announced as being $3.51.

The Daughters of Veterans had charge of the social hour with Mrs. Annette Smith as leader. The following program was given:

Mrs. Smith told of the growth of the local organization and read a portion of Commander Hall's address to the Grand Army of the Republic at the 1920 convention referring to the Daughters of Veterans, in which he said "no one should be as near and dear to the soldier as his own daughter with the exception of his wife," and told of the good the organization was doing and of their contribution of $1000 to the Southern Memorial Fund.

Piano solo by Mrs. Pope, A. Warmin' Up in Dixie, followed with the Miking Bird. Accordion solo by Mr. Dingle, two selections.

Recitation by Mr. Blackmun entitled How We Fought the Fire.

Accordian solo by Mr. Dingle.

Recitation by Mr. McKay, Over the Hills From the Poor House.

Flag salute by Daughters, after which The Star Spangled Banner was sung and meeting adjourned to meet Oct. 30, 1920.

SETTIE POPE Sec.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES TO BE ELECTED NOVEMBER 2

JAMES M. COX

Democratic candidate for President of the United States. To cast your vote for Cox, you must vote for Martin Caraballa, Charles E. Jones, W. Y. Knott, J. G. Sharon, G. B. Wells and P. W. Carr.

HON. DUNCAN U. FLETCHER
Democratic nominee for United States Senator.

HON. CAREY A. HARDEE
Of Live Oak, Florida, Democratic candidate for Governor.

HON. H. CLAY CRAWFORD
Of Tallahassee, Fla., Democratic nominee for Secretary of State, who has held this office creditably for several years.

FOR COUNTY JUDGSHIP—

Z. BASS, DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

Z. Bass, regular nominee for the position of county judge upon the democratic ticket, is asking the franchise of the people of Osceola county. Winning the nomination in the primary over two opposing aspirants, he believes, as do the majority of the voters, that he is rightly and fairly entitled to the solid support at the polls of those who opposed him.

Mr. Bass has been a resident of Kissimmee as a practicing attorney for nearly six years, and in these years has won his way to the friendship of the people. He came here from the state of his birth, Georgia, and four years ago was importuned to make the race for the position to which he now aspires. He refused at the time on the ground that he had resided here too short a time to allow the people to become thoroughly acquainted with him. This year he entered the campaign at the strong insistence of his many friends, and made a handsome record. Those who best know him declare that no better selection could have been made. It is safe to say that where he is best known there he is liked and appreciated; and there is not the slightest doubt that the vote he will poll on Tuesday, Nov. 2, will be greatly augmented by the women's vote.

Vote 'No' on constitutional amendment next Tuesday.

S. W. PORTER

Of St. Cloud, Democratic nominee for Justice of the Peace for the St. Cloud District. Mr. Porter is well known to all the voters of this city and to practically all of those in the county, and has served a four-year term as Justice of the Peace to the satisfaction of the entire county.

J. M. HANSELL FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

J. M. Hansell, regularly elected candidate for county commissioner upon the democratic ticket, is worthy the solid and unified support of all the citizens of Osceola. Mr. Hansell is by no means a stranger to the people of this county, as he is an old-time resident of Kissimmee—and was at one time a member of the local city council, where he served well and faithfully. The office of commissioner is a most important one—for upon that board of officials depends much of the well-being of all sections of the county; and those who know the qualifications of Mr. Hansell are sincere in their belief that the affairs of the county could not rest in better or more competent hands. His election will mean much to Osceola county.

HON. W. J. SEARS
Of Kissimmee, Democratic nominee for Congress of the 4th District of Florida.

H. H. HULL

Of St. Cloud, Democratic nominee for member of the County School Board from the St. Cloud District. Mr. Hull was a successful candidate in the June primary and finds himself with opposition in the general election.

L. R. FARMER, DEMOCRAT, NOMINEE FOR SHERIFF

Mr. Farmer is one of the best known residents of this county—as for the past fifteen years he has been connected with county matters—either as an employer of labor or in some official capacity. When he came here from Orange county he was in the turpentine business. Later, and at various intervals, he has served as road supervisor, in which capacity he became conversant with every section of the county; he has been purchasing agent for the county and looked after details of the county farm; for a brief term he served as deputy sheriff—although that was some eight years ago; and at the first of the present year he resigned from his post as captain of the convicts—which post he had held for some six years. It may be seen that these various duties and occupations have given him a fund of information which will be most useful in the capacity he is sure to be called upon to fill after the first of the coming year.

L. R. Farmer is spoken of as "a fearless man." He stands for the full and complete observance of the law—with no friends to cajole and no enemies to Whom St. Cloud helped to nominate as a Democratic candidate in the June primary and who has made himself known as the capable person to fill the office of Sheriff.

HON. J. L. OVERSTREET

Of Kissimmee, candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court without opposition either in the primary or general election.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR—

W. I. BARBER, DEMOCRAT

The two terms in the office of tax assessor which W. I. Barber has filled have been marked with a degree of fairness and square dealing that deserves only the greatest of praise. Mr. Barber is a young man of true worth. Born and raised in Osceola county, he is well acquainted with all sections within its confines, and there can be found none who can assert his office has ever lent itself to unfair deals. He has taken special pains in all his assessment work, and his system of covering all portions of the county can not be excelled. That is the opinion of all who have had occasion to have dealings with his office. His re-election to this post will show that the voters highly appreciate a careful and painstaking official.

C. E. YOWELL FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

For thirty-two years a resident of Florida, for thirty years a resident of Osceola county, for fifteen years a teacher in the public schools—that is a portion of the record of C. E. Yowell, candidate upon the Democratic ticket for county superintendent of schools. His has been a clean record, too. He has occupied several clerical positions, and assumed the position to which he now aspires when he was appointed to succeed W. J. Sears at the time the latter was elected congressman. Newer residents of this county may not be aware that Mr. Sears' election made the office of county superintendent vacant; and may not be aware that Mr. Yowell served one year and eleven months to fill out the term of office.

Most of them know, however, that at the following election Mr. Yowell was elected without opposition to serve the people in that capacity and know, also, that in the primary this year he had no opposition for nomination. All this tends to show the esteem in which he is held by the people and the confidence which is his from all sections of Osceola county. His election on Tuesday, Nov. 2, to succeed himself for the second term is generally conceded—for he numbers his friends by the hundreds in all sections. Teachers admire him because of the interest he takes in their work, and the efforts he has taken to provide them with everything that is needed to urge better salaries so far as lay within his power; and all school patrons feel that in C. E. Yowell they have a friend who will look to their interests. A vote for him on Nov. 2 will be a forward step for the county and its educational institutions.

H. H. HULL, CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

In the spring primary there was a very flattering vote given to H. H. Hull for the position of Member of the School Board from the third district, and because the nominee is so well known in all sections of the county there is no doubt that his election is sure. Mr. Hull has resided in this county so long that to all intents and purposes "he has lived here all his life," and there is a general feeling that his election will mean additional strength to the board of which he will be a member. The school board is a body in which politics should have little bearing—and it is so recognized; and because of this fact there can be no partisanship shown by any of the members. The people of Osceola—as well as the entire state—are a unit favorable to good and thorough education; and the election of Mr. Hull will mean progress in all lines.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

HON. RIVERS M. BUFORD

Democratic nominee for Attorney General of the State of Florida.

FOR STATE SENATOR NINETEENTH SENATORIAL DIST.

HON. M. O. OVERSTREET

Of Orlando, Democratic nominee for State Senator from the 19th District. Mr. Overstreet has no opposition.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

HON. A. F. BASS

Of St. Cloud, who has been nominated for County Commissioner for the St. Cloud District. Mr. Bass is the present chairman of the Board of County Commissioners.

CHARLES L. BANDY

Of Kissimmee, Democratic nominee for Tax Collector, who has proven through 12 years of service that he is the man for the job. Mr. Bandy has no opposition in the general election.

G. H. FUNK
Republican nominee for Sheriff of Osceola County

If elected I will strive to do my duty at all times, with a square deal to everyone.

FRANCES CAROLINE COLVIN

Frances Caroline Colvin was born Jan. 21, 1847, at Diamond Lake, Illinois, and Oct. 10, 1920, at her home in St. Cloud, Fla., aged 72 years, 8 months and 9 days. She was married at Harrington, Ill., Oct. 15, 1866, to Homer Dallas Colvin. To this union five children were born: Lew W. of Orlando, Fla.; May A., now Mrs. Frank Graham, whose home is at Harrison, Ark.; Ella J., now Mrs. L. M. Parker of Oberlin, Kan.; Mary A., who died at the age of four months, and an infant daughter who passed away the day of birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Colvin lived in Illinois until April 11, 1878, where they were born to the first of four children. On this date they set out overland in covered wagons, arriving in Desatur County, Kansas, in June of the same year. She was married to the hardships of pioneer life both in the West and at St. Cloud, Fla., where they arrived Nov. 18, 1880, doing her full share toward subduing the prairies and developing the beautiful southland. She had lived in St. Cloud until death suddenly relieved her from suffering and beckoned her home. The son, two daughters, with their companions, 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren are left to mourn their loss, but her grief.

Mrs. Colvin was a true wife and a faithful companion, a devoted mother and a very friendly neighbor, always denying self for others. Her life was truly one of service. She will be missed by many and by those at home most of all.

The husband and father, Homer D. Colvin, the first mayor of St. Cloud, preceded his wife in death, having passed away at St. Cloud on October 21, 1913, and was buried at Mt. Peace cemetery. His Civil war record in Co. E, 73d Ill. Inf., in which he enlisted, a mere boy, was a worthy one. At the battle of Franklin he received a wound in the forehead, the effects of which he carried to his grave. And here may be noted that during the Cheyenne Indian raid in 1875 Mr. Colvin and his brave wife stood off the Indians by shooting at them. Mrs. Colvin having the distinction of having fired the first shot at the redskins which was fired north of the Union Pacific railroad, the defence having been made in their log cabin on what has ever since been known as Colvin's Draw.

The last rites were conducted from the Eisenstein Bros. parlors Sunday afternoon and the remains were tenderly laid to rest beside the husband in Mt. Peace cemetery.

Rev. Wm. Landies, Rev. J. B. Santee, Rev. N. W. Bencham officiated at the burial.

(Written by Mrs. L. W. Colvin, of Orlando, daughter-in-law.)

In Memory of Our Mothers

Oh, life for us is lonely, since Mother passed away,
Tomorrow will be darker, than Was our yesterday,
God's angel came and beckoned,
He answered to the call,
Her gentle spirit went to Him,
Who marks the sparrow's fall.

In childhood days our footsteps,
Would sometimes go astray,
She'd gently guide them back,
Then, into the narrow way.

In after years, when sorrows
Our pathway would befall,
She'd comfort, cheer and help us
And love us; through it all.

Since she is called away,
Guide Thou our wayward footsteps
And comfort us always,
And while our hearts are saddened
We pray, most holy One,
Teach us in this our darkest hour,
To say "Thy Will Be Done."

Mother
No, Mother is not dead,
But laid her worn out body down;
Just gone away to live with Him,
And wear the golden crown.

No, Mother is not dead,
But gone to her eternal rest;
Why should we weep, if it is His plan,
His will is always best.

No, Mother is not dead,
She lives more glorious than before;
When you and I are taken home,
She'll meet us at the door.

No, Mother is not dead,
There is no death for those who love;
Love brings to all eternal life,
And home with Him above.

No, Mother is not dead,
Just gone to live with Him for aye;
So cheer, and hearts, for you and I,
Shall be with her some day.

In loving remembrance,
L. M. P.

Oliver Wendell Holmes said:
"Youth fades; love droops; the leaves of friendship fall;
A mother's secret hope outlives them all."

EDWARD MORRELL FRANKLIN

Born July 29, 1832, in Brooklyn, N. Y., and died in St. Cloud, Fla., Oct. 21, 1920.

His father was a doctor by profession, and served in the Civil war as surgeon. The Franklins were Quakers, being the direct descendants of the brother of Benjamin Franklin, while the mothers ancestral connections dates back to William Fourth of Holland.

Mr. Franklin fought for his country in the Indian wars in Oklahoma. Most of his life was spent in Brooklyn, New York, being employed in the Department of Street Cleaning, as property clerk, and had control of thousands of dollars of property, which he guarded faithfully, being retired by the department in January of 1918.

He was of a jovial disposition and was loyal to his friends. He was an affectionate husband, a lover of his home, and of good nature.

He became a member of the Masonic fraternity early in manhood, passed thru all of the degrees, and at his death was a life member of Mecca Temple, the mother shrine in New York City.

The Knights Templar, in full uniform, conducted the impressive funeral service of their order, on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 24, at the Presbyterian church, and at the grave in Mt. Peace cemetery.

Beside his wife, to mourn their loss, he left several grandchildren living in Florida, one of whom was especially dear to him, Louise Babcock of Ortega, Fla., who through illness was unable to be present at interment.

The remains were taken in charge by the Eisenstein Brothers.

WHAT KIND OF BIRD ARE YOU?

He was an old gent. For his age he held himself very erect. He was tall and gaunt. There was nothing attractive about him. In fact, he was rather a shaven, unkempt. He lived in a metropolitan city. His home was a cheap lodging house, a "flopp," as they are called. For his existence he filed keys.

To those who were sharp enough to file a key that would unlock his reticence, treasures repaid the effort. He had a store of knowledge of a beneficial kind. Like many of his kind, his experiences were wide and varied. But in one thing he was an expert. He knew botany. He knew the flowers, he knew the weeds, and he knew them well. His knowledge was like a rare bloom springing up in a dismal waste.

He was shabby because he did not have time feathers. People will look askance at an honest, humble and lowly fellow. He will pass unnoticed. If noticed at all, it is with aversion. A liar or a thief in fine clothes they will take into their homes.

Mothers will draw their children to them when an unshaven fellow passes. But they will risk their daughters to the joy with a flashy front and a winged lunousness.

The peacock with its gorgeous array of feathers is all for show. The rambler looking small or lark like the insects or fills the air with cheerful song.

Humans are much the same as birds. Some have flashy feathers and their characters are shady questions. Others have attractions of character and personality. Their feathers are accordingly subdued. The one is always chattering to attract attention. The other has sterling qualities more enduring than chatter. But the chatterer is the one who attracts attention. The other most goes its way unnoticed.

The old gent had the worth while the last qualities. He went unnoticed because people are attracted more by flash and daring. His thoughts were like music. Those who could see beyond the flash of a gay front were attracted to him. They did not shun him or chase him away. His lyrical thoughts cheer one in remembrance long after he has passed away.

What kind of a bird do you take to? Are you swayed by the gaudy chatter? Does a big car or a cockney air send your fancies awry? Or can you see beyond these shams? Can you peer below the surface? Is the humble, modest fellow with an honest thought and ideals the one you would choose for conversation or companionship? Your answer to these questions will tell what kind of a bird you are.

LENS AND MIRROR SEND THE SUN'S RAYS DOWN DISEASED THROAT

In several tuberculosis sanitariums of the United States there is being now used a little instrument of glass and steel that reflects the sun's rays down the patient's throat and larynx, and so hastens the destruction of the bacilli. To use the instrument the patient faces the sun, and places the tube between his lips, lens outward.

KISSIMMEE, FLORIDA

KISSIMMEE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DOING GOOD WORK

The Kissimmee Chamber of Commerce, through the efforts of their new secretary, J. D. Woodbeck, has undertaken some new plans that are creating new interest in the development of our sister city. One of the practical accomplishments during the past few days has been the establishment of a curb market after the fashion of that now in vogue in St. Cloud, and Darlington avenue has been set aside by the city council of Kissimmee to be used by the truckers on market days. The truck growers association has proposed to co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in making the curb market a success and within a few days the people of Kissimmee will have a variety of fresh vegetables from the local truck farms, which will be of great convenience to the buying public.

Mr. Woodbeck announces that the band concerts will begin on Nov. 7 in Kissimmee and continue twice a week during the winter season.

The Kissimmee Chamber of Commerce has purchased a one-half page advertisement in the Tourists' Guide issued by the Philadelphia Record.

The first Bargain Day to be arranged by the Chamber of Commerce with the

HOW WELL YOU LOOK

When Your Blood Is Rich and Red People Notice Your Good Health

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS HEALTH

Pale Face, Dull Eyes, Drooping Shoulders, Results From Clogged Blood

If your blood is in bad shape it shows up in your looks and feeling. When your blood is rich with red corpuscles your color is better—your lips are red, eyes wide open and bright, your good feeling shows in your action.

Common sense will tell you that if weak, thin blood makes you look lifeless, it lowers your vitality. If your vitality is low you have little power to resist disease germs. Men, women and children with rich, red blood are able to fight off the germs which bring severe illness.

When you feel run down and weak, with no appetite and no ambition, take Pepto-Mangan for a while. It is a great blood building tonic. You should begin to feel better within a few days.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer, because they have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package—Advertisement.

Kissimmee merchants will be held Saturday, and they are looking forward to having a great crowd in Kissimmee on that day. A band concert will be given between three and four o'clock Saturday afternoon as an added attraction to the Bargain Day advertised for that date.

W. L. DAVIS, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

W. L. Davis, Republican candidate for County Commissioner, Precinct No. 2, has asked the Tribune to announce to the voters of Osceola county that he would appreciate their support in the general election.

Mr. Davis states that cattlemen are very busy these days and he could not see all the voters in the county personally as it was the case of business before pleasure, but that he solicited the support of all the voters in the county and promises to give them a conservative administration as a member of the Board of County Commissioners.

Mr. Davis came to Osceola county a few years ago and purchased some of the holdings of E. L. Leslie, who was formerly a member of the county board and a big cattle raiser and has devoted his time to the development of his holdings.

Being a business man it stands to reason that if he should be elected as member of the Board of County Commissioners he would attend to the county affairs in a business manner.

ST. CLOUD BOY IN PIG CLUB

County Agent L. H. Wilson advises the Tribune that he has signed up John Cecil Outlaw of St. Cloud for the Pig Club and will offer him a trip to Gainesville, Florida, to attend the Boys' Short Course in Pig Raising to be held at that place on December 6th.

Cecil has purchased a pig from Fred N. Bert of DeLeon Springs, Fla., of the Duroc Jersey breed, and will give his attention to getting his pig ready for exhibition in December.

Cecil Outlaw is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

G. C. Outlaw, who are well known as time residents of St. Cloud.

This trip to Gainesville offered to pig club boys is a great educational advantage in stock raising as the state pays the expense for the boys who comply with the regulations of the club for the short course given at the University of Florida.

The people of St. Cloud should encourage the boys to enter this pig raising club and give them every assistance possible.

RUNNYMEDE HOTEL TO OPEN IN SEPTEMBER

The Tribune is in receipt of reliable information that Mr. J. Edward Krause will return to St. Cloud shortly after the presidential election to open Hotel Runnymede, four miles east of St. Cloud, for the winter season.

Mr. Krause has had the hotel entirely rebuilt and has made it one of the beauty spots of Florida and it is understood that reservations to the full capacity of the hotel have already been made for the full season.

The people of St. Cloud are pleased to learn that this hotel is to be opened again this year and that Mr. Krause will be personally in charge of its management during the season.

Mr. Krause is one of the best known hotel men in the country, being the owner of two of Indianapolis' largest hotels, and has been very successful as a hotel man.

He has made good his statement when here over a year ago that he would make Hotel Runnymede a place that would be a credit to this section of the country and that he would fill it to its capacity this season.

BOY SCOUTS

Regular council of Troop No. 1 met in regular session with fair attendance. Examinations were given in first aid and those who attended passed with credit.

On Saturday afternoon the Scoutmaster was served to eat, consisting of potatoes served to him by several of the boys in the rank of Tenderfoot that were passing tests in cooking. The following passed cooking tests: Donald Gunnison, Fred Reagan, Darrell Randall, Louis Gussow and Harold Watson. Also tests were given on Scout pace.

Donald Gunnison has passed all tests and is raised to rank of Second Class Scout.

The next regular council of Scouts will be held on next Friday evening. A full attendance is desired, as there is work for Scouts in the very near future which will require instruction from Scoutmaster as to work to be done.

Our pigeon keeper reports that the pets are doing fine in the new loft that has been built for that purpose.

Registration is on at present for year of 1921. All who register and pay dues now, before returns are sent in, will get through by paying a fee of 25c, but after that it will cost 50c.

Visiting Scouts from out of town are welcome at any and all of our council meetings.

STATE AUDITOR MCINTOSH COMPLETES TAX COLLECTOR

State Auditor McIntosh was in Kissimmee the last of the week and the first of this week, going over the various county officers' books.

While it is known to the people of Osceola county that C. L. Bandy has been an efficient tax collector and has always been prompt in attending to his tax books, it will be pleasant information to know that Mr. McIntosh stated on his visit here that the tax books of C. L. Bandy were as good as any to be found in the state and that it was a pleasure to check up books kept in such an up-to-date manner.

He said that he had never audited a more satisfactory set of books as those kept by Mr. Bandy, as everything was recorded in the proper manner and his balances were always correct.

Are You Cooled?

Have you filled your bins? Have you? We ask the question rather insistently, we know. We ask it as the men who write advertisements would ask it. You know how these wizards of the alluring phrase do it—how they get your wife to buy canned squid, for example. "Did you serve HIM that SQUID for dinner?" they say. "Did you? We haven't room in this ad for a picture, but we ask, our finger Monogrammed at you, if not, why not?" And thus they squib about squid.

Well that is the way we ask you about your winter's coal supply. We ask it for the last time—because next month it will be time to ask you whether you have done your Christmas shopping! No self-respecting journalist would think for a moment of presenting the early shopping urge later than September 1st, by which it will be time to touch lightly upon the fire prevention before he passes to the sassafras leaf aspect of gardening.

This terrible passion for discussing things out of season is the writer's equivalent of furs in summer and winter hats in September. Only the writers have rather overdone the matter. In their anxiety to push forward their campaign a little more each season, they have gone around their yearly cycle, some of them as many as a dozen times; I myself, for example, am writing this article for the year 1935, having presented my annual coal-buying plea for this year as long ago as May, 1912. You reply, of course, that you may be living in Los Angeles in 1935—but then, the chances are equally good that you will still be living in the United States, so buy accordingly.—Cartoon Magazine.
